Foreword

Not unlike a panther, our days at Pinnacle High have stealthily, but swiftly slipped away from us. These days have been, as is a panther, vigorous, active, and eventful. Now that they are coming to an end, we proudly record their happenings in this, the 1963 PANTHER.

Dedication

To the man whose sense of humor brightens our every day, whose witty and wise sayings cheer and help us, we pay tribute. For the past five years we have viewed his short, slender figure walking through the halls of P. H. S. He has become a part of us and he is looked upon with respect. We take great pleasure in dedicating this, the 1963 PANTHER to everyone's friend, Mr. Earlie N. Pratt.

Cheerleaders

Pinnacle has been noted for their cheerleaders. These girls make up the remaining part of our school spirit, but they are certainly not the least part. They have worked hard this year to keep up the good name that was previously bestowed upon them. Under the leadership of their chief, they have reached the peak of their goal and have been hailed as one of the best all-round squads in the county.

All the way, Black Panthers, all the way.

Anne George, Chief.

The cheerleaders have done well under the guidance of their chief, who has had five years of experience. She is certainly proud to be the leader of a group of wonderful girls that have worked so hard to reach the goal that had been set before them at the start of the basketball season.
